

JUDY LINN

10 Questions

1. Do you collect anything?

Stale bread

Plastic Bags

Glass Jars

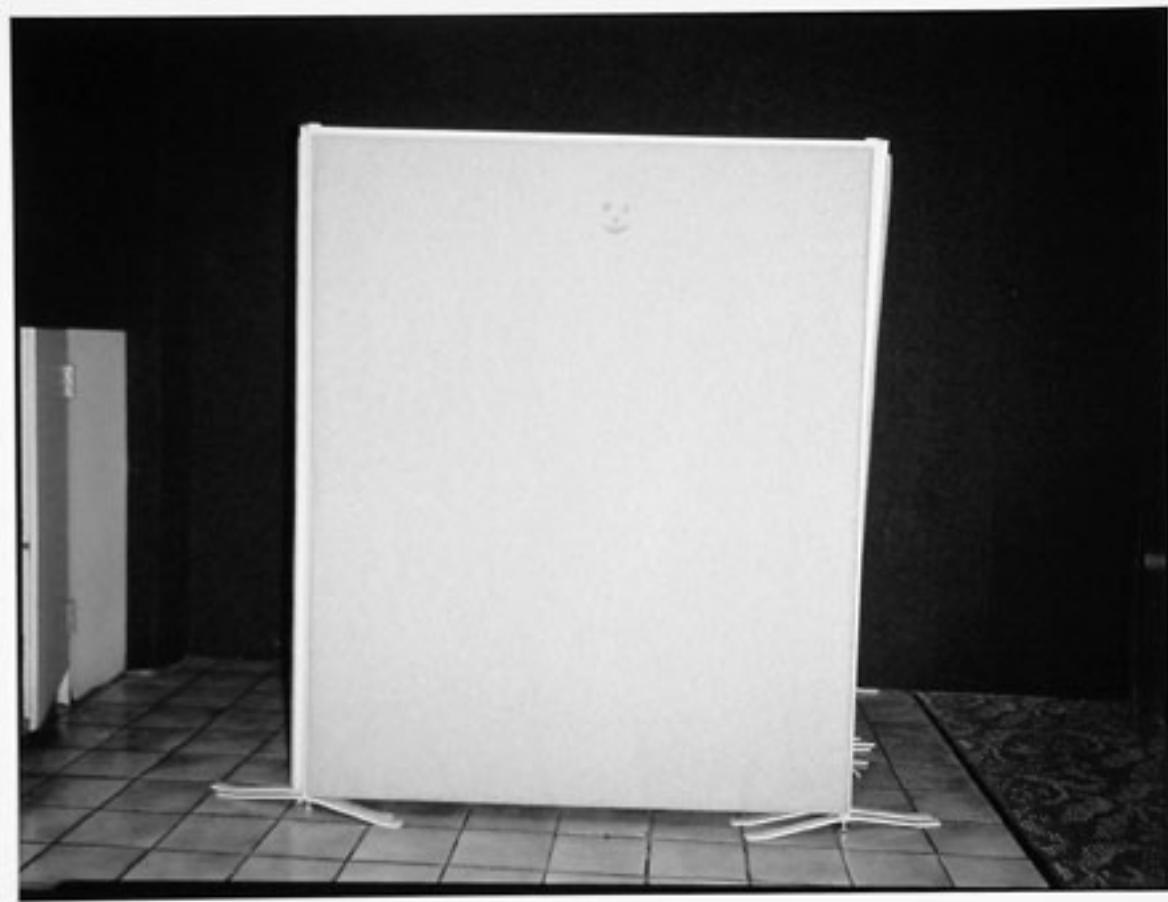

Photo books

2. What kind of posters did you have hanging on your wall as a kid/teenager?

At 6 years old I had a battle with my mother over who had say over the walls — and she won.

At 10 years I sent away for Lana Lobell catalogues as a fetish item is not something to order clothes from.

3. How do you feel about spending your life as an artist? Do you ever wish you had been an astronaut? or pop star?

I wish I still painted.

Astronaut? No, I get car sick.

Pop star? No, I don't like to be looked at.

4. What is your favorite period — culturally speaking?

Ancient Mesopotamia, especially the stuff from the Royal Tomb of Ur. In 2600BC.

Everything people made was beautiful or maybe their plastic bags just disintegrated over time.

5. Are there any songs, poems or movies you know by heart?

Lang: The big Heat, The Testament of Dr. Mabuse

Ulmer: The Black Cat, Detour

Franju: Les Yeux sans Visage

Pabst: 3 Penny Opera

Godard: Weekend

Chaplin: One AM and anything he did from 1918

Rossellini: Open City

Howard Hawks: Red River

Bunuel: Belle de Jour

Lubitsch: Trouble in Paradise

Hitchcock: Marnie

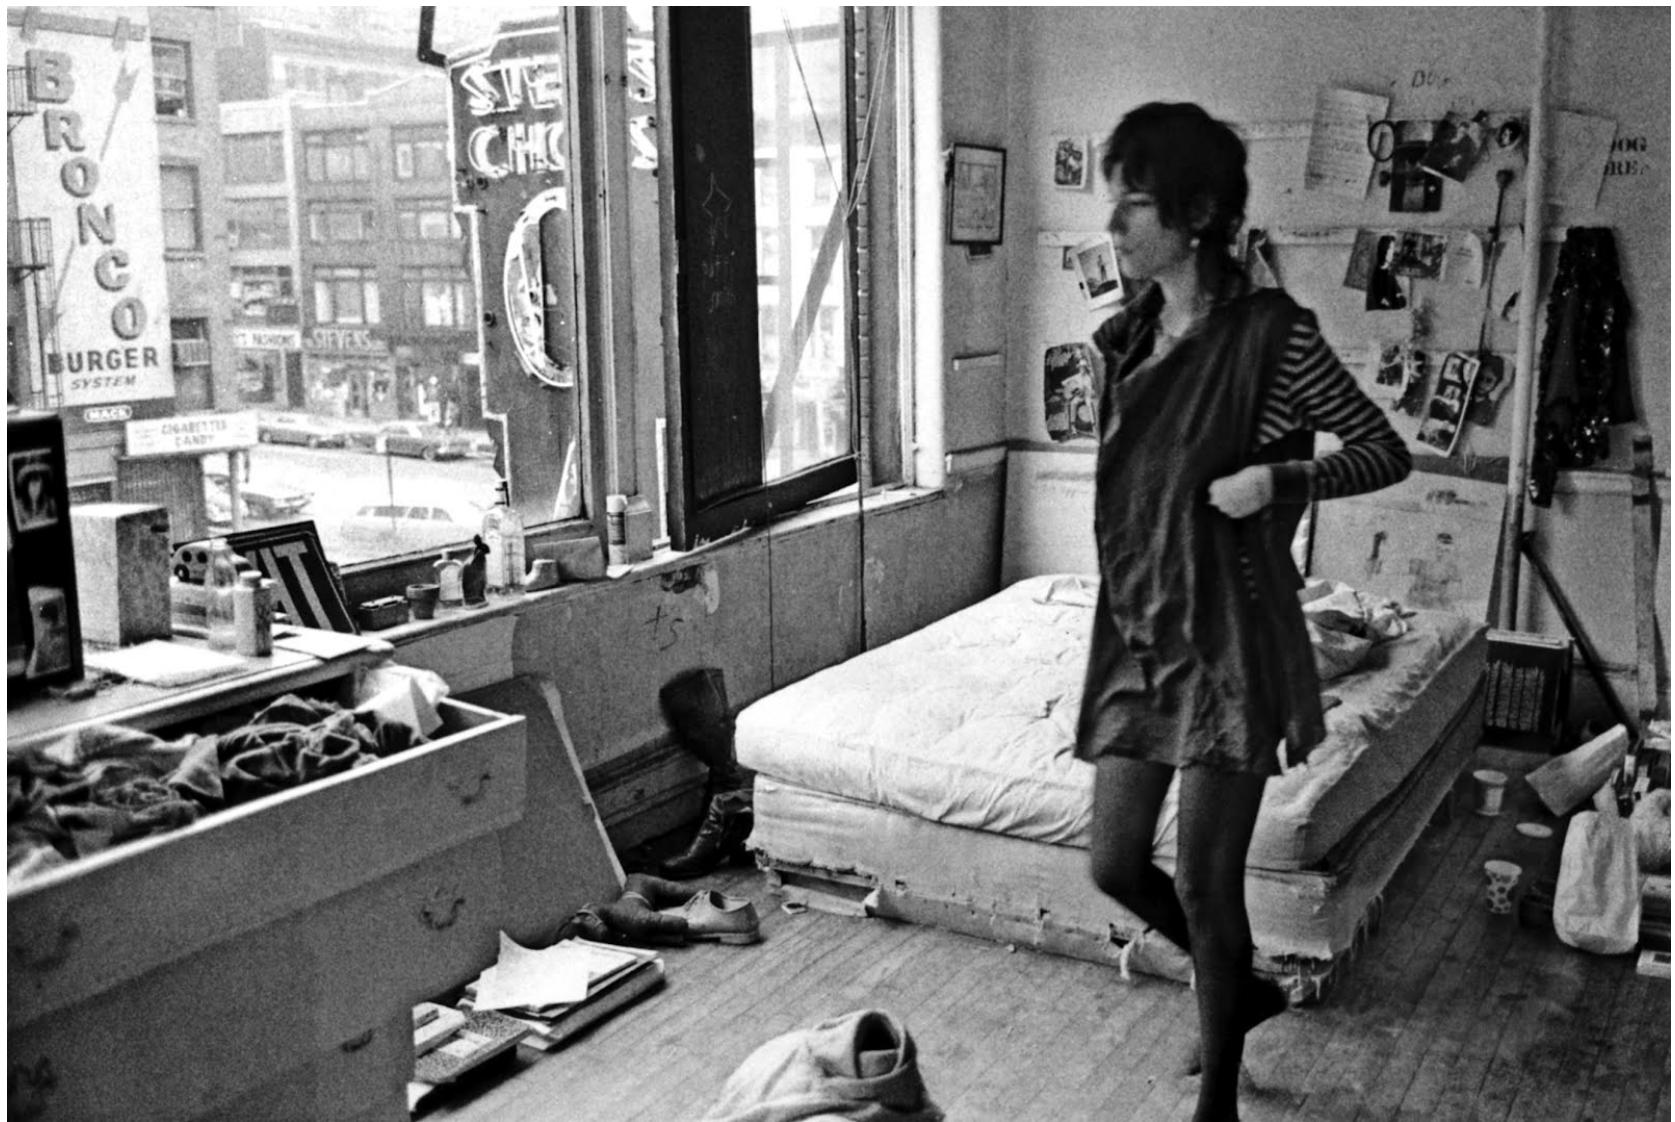

6. What is the best or most beautiful thing you own?

My Land

7. What do you think about those Balenciaga ads by Steven Meisel shot at the Chelsea Hotel?

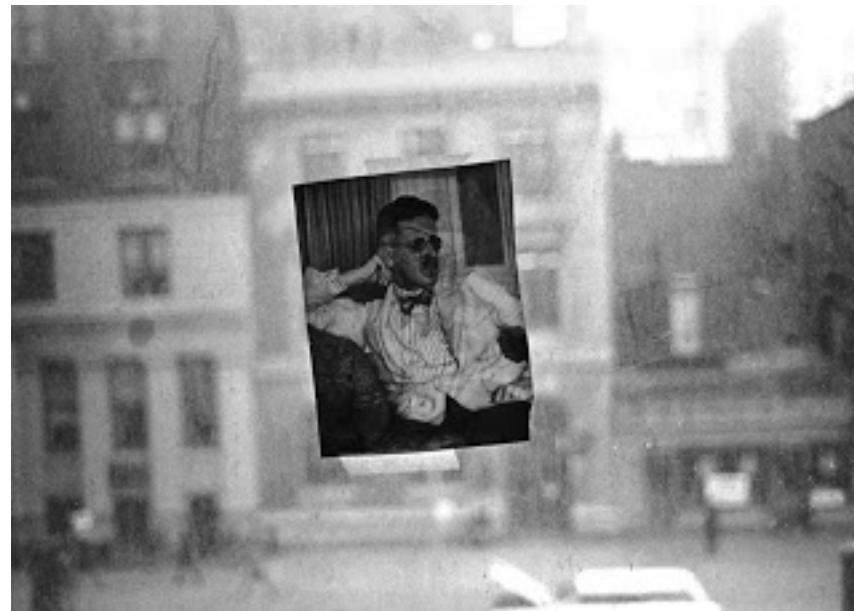

Seeing the spreads was as if your kid comes home from school and it is not your kid but a kid styled to look like your kid by some one's weird idea of what your kid looks like.

8. Imperfection, Serendipity, Intuition. Can you comment on these things in relation to your work?

I thank GOD for them every day and you could also add chance, change and mistakes.

9. Do you use your cell phone to take photos?
Tumblr and Instagram?

That I could have a good image in weeny cell phone resolution is a nightmare.

Tumblr and Instagram? the more to see the better
If everyone takes pictures of everything all the time
I feel less of a freak.

10. Please share the recipe to your best dish.

Boil cleaned and chopped broccoli.

Add penne pasta to the water.

Sauté chopped garlic and 2 or 3 anchovy filets in olive oil — maybe add some tomato paste.

When pasta is done and the broccoli is over-cooked put it all in the browned garlic and dissolved anchovies in olive oil.

END